Liberal Arts

Garrett College's liberal arts concentration is ideal for students interested in English, journalism, history, philosophy, languages, or pre-law. The liberal arts concentration gives students the background they need to be successful at a four-year college or university in a wide range of the arts and sciences.

Students begin their educational studies at Garrett College earning an Associate in Arts (A.A.) degree, then transfer to complete a bachelor's degree.

Garrett's liberal arts concentration can prepare students for a future in fields such as:

- ▶ Reporting
- ▶ Editing
- ▶ Writing
- ▶ Broadcasting
- ▶ Public Relations
- ▶ Advertising
- ▶ Law

The liberal arts curriculum at Garrett College focuses on the following:

- ▶ Art
- ▶ English
- ▶ Journalism
- ▶ Music
- ▶ Philosophy
- ▶ Theater
- ▶ Foreign Language
- ▶ History

Students in the liberal arts program must complete 60 credit hours in the disciplines of communications, humanities, social science, science, mathematics and computer science.
